Flames Creeping Towards Valuable Island Timber

More Men Rushed To Fight Blaze At Menzies Bay

Crews Dig to Complete Trench Around Burning Slash and Small Growth to Prevent Fire Spreading Towards Big Timber Stands North of Campbell River.

Fire-fighting crews battling the blaze at Trout Lake, west of Menzies Bay and north of Campbell River, are striving to-day to complete a fire line around the rapidly-spreading flames in a desperate effort to save valuable stands of timber in danger of being wiped out. The original force, recruited from logging camps up-Island, has been augmented by gangs from Vancouver. To-day they are digging a trench around the burning area, which has spread over 300 acres.

P. Z. Caverhill, chief forest ranger for the British Columbia government, is in Vancouver directing operations from headquarters there. BIG TIMBER IN DANGER

The area affected is chiefly slash and young growth. The crew is trying to prevent the blaze from spreading to the big timber stands in the vicinity. Should they succeed in throwing the line around the fire to-day, the chances of extensive losses in the larger stands will be greatly reduced. Yesterday a westerly wind fanned the fire and added greatly to the difficulties of the men at work there.

R. W. Fiumerfelt, in charge of forest fire fighting in Vancouver district, left for Trout Lake this morning to look over the ground.

Word from the Forestry Department of the Parliament Building this morning stated no other outbreaks of any size had been reported on the Island.

HARD TIMES TALK OVERDONE, WARNS FINANCIAL POST

Toronto, July 22.—The Financial Post in its leading front page editorial says: "An attempt dispassionately to appraise the merits of the campaigns of Liberals and Conservatives, leads to the conclusion that the Conservative managers are in grave danger of throwing many votes to the Liberals. The Conservatives, without a doubt, have overdone the talk of hard times and have promised too much if they are granted a majority in the House of Commons. "Only a prejudiced mind is convinced that we have had in Canada in the last four years an execrable government. On the contrary, the government has been a reasonably good one. Inevitably, there have been mistakes and these have contributed to our economic problems. But it is only a very bad government which can ruin business and the very best government can do no more than help business. Business is good or bad in accordance with fundamental economic conditions and in proportion to the ability of business management to take advantage of favorable economic conditions, or to minimize the effect of trying conditions. "An opposition which blames a reasonably efficient government for hard times is crediting that government with more power than it possesses; a government which claims all of the credit for good times is extraordinarily egotistical."

London Naval Treaty Is Signed By Hoover

United States Completes Action on Limitation Pact; Britain and Japan Moving Toward Ratification

Washington, July 22.—President Hoover to-day signed the London Naval Treaty. The pact has still to be ratified by Great Britain and Japan. It was ratified yesterday by the United States Senate by 58 votes to 9.

The President said the treaty would secure the full defence of the United States and would disperse from the minds of the world any idea that this country aimed for imperialistic exploitation.

BOTH PARTIES SUPPORT IT

Asserting the pact was a great accomplishment, the chief executive said it was a matter of satisfaction that it had been carried through step by step, with the co-operation of both political parties.

London, July 22.—The House of Commons will proceed immediately with the further consideration of the bill giving effect to the London Naval Treaty. Premier MacDonald informed the House of the plan this afternoon. Asked by former Premier Stanley Baldwin whether it was necessary the second reading of the bill take place to-morrow, or whether it would be left over until the autumn, Mr. MacDonald replied the bill would be considered on its second reading to-morrow.

RUMOR SAYS SHAMROCK V IS IN TROUBLE

But Report of Accident at Sea Is Not Believed in England

Yacht Sailing Toward Azores on Voyage to New York

Canadian Press
Portsmouth, Eng., July 22.—A rumor was current here this afternoon that the Shamrock met with a serious mishap at sea. The report was discredited by Camper and Nicholson, builders of the yacht, who pointed out that Sir Thomas Lipson's steam yacht Erin, accompanying the Shamrock, was equipped with wireless and would have reported any trouble.

AT EIGHT KNOTS
Earlier in the day it had been reported the Shamrock V. was making an average speed of eight knots in a calm sea after night of fresh north-west winds and a heavy northerly swell. At noon the position was about 175 miles southwest of Land's End, the yacht being headed in the direction of the Azores, where she will put in to take on supplies before heading for the United States.

AGREEMENT WIDENS FIELD OF TALKIES

U.S. and German Recording Pact Covers Large Part of the World

Paris, July 22.—United States and German motion picture and electrical interests to-day signed an agreement which settles differences over the use of recording patents in the motion picture industry. The United States leaders, headed by Will H. Hays, started conferring with German sound film interests in mid-June and reached an agreement July 13 which had to be submitted to the German Ministry of the Interior. It provided for the complete interchangeability of motion pictures and sound-recording and reproducing apparatus between the interests involved. The agreement was put into the form of a legal document for complete ratification. (Concluded on Page 15)

PLUMBING HITS SNAG IN COUNCIL

Alderman R. Smith Now "Ashamed of New Regulation," He Declares

By-law Laid Over For Two More Weeks to Get Copies of Amendments

After an attempt by Alderman Robert Smith to have the proposed regulation thrown out because of "ridiculous amendments" which had been introduced since it was brought up, the city's new plumbing by-law was given a two weeks' hold by the council yesterday evening.

A petition signed by thirty-three people, seeking for the withdrawal of the by-law, was presented to the council, and was used by Alderman Smith as a basis for his motion to drop the scheme.

On motion of Alderman H. O. Litchfield, it was finally decided to lay the matter over until the next meeting when a draft copy of proposed amendments could be given to each alderman for consideration.

WANTED TIME
Twenty-two amendments to the regulation were proposed in the report of the public works committee, drawn up following a meeting with representatives of interested parties last week.

Alderman Alex. Feden introduced the move to have the by-law laid over. He was not prepared to pass on the various amendments, he said, until he had a copy of them to consider carefully before giving his opinions. Alderman Litchfield supported him in this view. (Concluded on Page 15)

SHOWERS VISIT EASTERN U.S.

New York, July 22.—The general heat wave in the eastern section of the United States.

Its end before tonight seemed imminent, for the weather man finally issued a "positively" in front of his prediction of cooling showers, and skies were overcast in the regions where heat and humidity persisted.

Under the clouds the temperature had wanted to 79 in New York at 10 a.m., but it was 84 in Baltimore, 87 in Philadelphia and 80 in Newark at mid-forenoon.

Loss of life attributable to the heat continued to mount. Virginia reported fourteen dead and more than forty deaths and five prostrations during the hot spell. Baltimore marked two more fatalities. Albany had one prostration. New Jersey counted fourteen dead and more than forty prostrations by the heat in twenty-four hours, and Ohio counted eleven deaths from heat yesterday.

GERMAN PLANE RACER KILLED IN ENGLAND

Heston, Middlesex, Eng., July 22.—Ill-fortune caught up with the around Europe air races here to-day, when Mechanic von Bredon of the German plane piloted by H. E. von Cooten was struck in the head and killed by a propeller blade.

It was the first serious mishap of the flight, which started yesterday from Germany.

Von Bredon was killed as he climbed one of his plane.

Ottawa, July 22.—With but five days of the Federal election campaign left, Premier King is confident the Liberals will score a victory in the polling July 28. He will speak in Montreal this evening and after a number of meetings of the campaign will be made from Ottawa by radio Saturday evening. The nation-wide broadcast will be from 10 p.m. till 12 p.m. eastern daylight saving time (6 p.m. till 8 p.m. Victoria time).

Ottawa, July 22.—After a brief interval last night, Premier King left early this afternoon on the last stage of his Federal election campaign tour. He is devoting almost the entire week to Ontario. Yesterday evening he addressed a monster mass here, and to-day he left for Montreal, where he is to speak this evening. The Montreal meeting will be his only one in Quebec province.

On leaving Ottawa the Prime Minister voiced complete confidence the Liberals would triumph at the polls.

Ottawa turned out in force last night to hear the Prime Minister. The Auditorium was the scene for thousands who crowded into the great building, filling all available space. Outside there were some 3,000 persons unable to gain admission.

The Prime Minister arrived at the Auditorium at 9 o'clock, and his entrance was the signal for a great burst of enthusiasm. Cheers and hand-clapping came from the huge crowd. Handkerchiefs were waved. Horns and whistles sounded a chorus for the bagpipers, which played Mr. King to his seat on the platform.

Port Said, July 22.—One rioter was killed and two wounded in fresh disorders which broke out here this afternoon. Police fired into a mob attempting to burn the municipal stables in the native quarters.

Further reinforcements will arrive in Port Said to-night, but the authorities announced the situation, growing out of the political differences between King Fuad of Egypt and the resigned Premier, Mahad Pasha, now was well in hand, and that all trouble had been confined to the native quarters.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW GAINS ON THE MARKET AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, July 22.—Wheat prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange showed upward to-day to make up half of the loss of yesterday as United States corn prices drew up to near the wheat level. Reports of rust damage to Saskatchewan crops also were a bullish factor. The market recorded gains of one to one and one-eighth cents at the close.

Export business was considered to total about 500,000 bushels overnight, but a good business was worked Monday, giving the bulls confidence. Traders believed week-end rains on the prairies had definitely relieved the drought situation.

BENNETT GIVES TARIFF VIEWS
IN ONTARIOFederal Conservative Leader
Speaks in St. Thomas, Aylmer and SimcoeSt. Thomas, Ont., July 22.—The tariff, unemployment and Canada's representation at the Imperial Conference were topics discussed by Hon.R. B. Bennett, Federal Conservative leader, in an address at a political meeting here yesterday evening."In a speech at Barrie on Saturday," the opposition leader said, "Mr. Mackenzie King is reported to have said he thought Mr. Bennett had deliberately raised the issue of unemployment in order to obscure one of the major issues—Canadian representation at the Imperial Economic Conference."Mr. Bennett gave it as his view that it was the people of Canada who had raised the question of unemployment and demanded that it be dealt with.EMPIRE CONFERENCE Mr. Bennett predicted a Conservative government would represent Canada at the Imperial Conference.The first mention of an economic conference, Mr. Bennett said, had been made by himself. But, he continued, the Prime Minister had said nothing,but sent out invitations. "I claim no payment for the idea," said Mr. Bennett, "and am only too glad to accept the idea, but I must object when he suggests I am afraid to talk about it."His suggestion, the opposition leader said, was for a conference at Ottawa.Mr. Bennett criticized the countervailing duties introduced by the Liberal administration.THREE SPEECHES
Mr. Bennett's speech here followed one earlier in the day at Simcoe.
Wedged between the two was a speech in Aylmer.NATIONAL ISSUES
At Simcoe he said:
"All of us must not forget that the election in which we are now engaged is one that touches our national life."The first mention of an economic conference, Mr. Bennett said, had been made by himself. But, he continued, the Prime Minister had said nothing,ceded, and policies of government must be national in character."Your business and mine," Mr. Bennett said, "is to build up a great country. Your fathers' fathers toiled with that hope in mind. They labored and toiled and you and I as trustees of this vast estate should strive with that end in view; strive that this country may be the better for our having lived here.""Because," Mr. Bennett said, "of the great volume of money sent out of the Dominion to buy goods which could and should be made in Canada, we have been losing steadily."Elaborating his arguments for higher tariff rates, Mr. Bennett said:
"I want no support for any Conservative candidate on any misconception at all. If we are returned we will pass legislation to insure to Canadians fair competition with all the other people of the world."DUNNING SAYS
TORY CAMPAIGN
DOUBLE FACEDDifferent Tariff Statements
in East and West, Charges Finance MinisterAuthor of Budget Back Home in Saskatchewan After Extensive TourBy George Finlay, Canadian Press Staff CorrespondentRegina, July 22.—Back to Saskatchewan, after a speaking tour extending from Ontario to the West Coast, Mr.
Charles A. Dunning, Federal Minister of Finance, who yesterday was officially nominated as Liberal candidate for the Commonwealth constituency in Regina, addressed a meeting of the Qu'Appelle constituency yesterday evening. The Finance Minister spoke in support of John Millar, Liberal-Progressive, who since 1921 represented Qu'Appelle in the House of Commons.The May Day budget and the Hudson Bay Railway were the issues discussed by Mr. Dunning. He was pleased that Hon. R. B. Bennett and members of the Conservative Party, who but a short time ago, were opposing the Crown's West freight rates, now demanded it must be put in force on the Hudson Bay Railway when it opened for traffic.If it had not been for the Liberals and Progressives, said Mr. Dunning, the West would never have had the Crown's West rates. But now the Conservatives were supporters of the same schedule for the Bay line."Of course they are," added Mr. Dunning. "The rates must be put in force on the Hudson Bay Railway whatever government is in power after July 26."

TWO STORIES

In the east, he said, the Conservatives had criticized the budget, declaring it would react to the detriment of Canadian manufacturers, but in the west another story was told. In the west it was declared to be a "fake," an empty gesture. "The empty gesture," however, had gained the approval of the British people, the press and statesmen, creating good will of untold value, and would promote increased trade, he said.Mr. Millar, in his address, dealt with grain marketing and declared a few days after the publication of the budget a better feeling had been created in Great Britain, there was now a discussing the forthcoming Empire products, and as a result wheat exports had shown a steady increase since May 1.

THOMAS AND WHEAT

That St. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal in the British Government, had made an offer to purchase Canadian wheat at $1.40 a bushel during his visit to the Dominion was denied by both Mr. Dunning and Mr. Millar.
"Mr. Thomas made no such offer to the Wheat Pool," said Mr. Millar. "He merely suggested that when wheat was quoted at $1.40 a bushel it was a good price and time to sell."In brief reference, Mr. Dunning also said no such offer had been made by Mr. Thomas. He had come to Ottawa to discuss the forthcoming Empire Economic Conference and was not a purchaser of wheat, as he later declared in the British House of Commons, said the Finance Minister.NAVAL PLANS APPROVED BY BRITISH HOUSE

Canadian Press

London, July 22.—The fleet made the Empire; now it is time the Empire made the fleet. This was an exclamation by Leslie Hore-Belisha, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Devonport, when he spoke during the debate on the naval estimates yesterday. A back bench Labor motion for rejection of the estimates was crushingly defeated by a vote of 239 to 37.
"The first Lord (St. Hon. A. V. Alexander) has stated he is unable to state the full building programme because he must first consult the Dominions," said the member for Devonport. "Does this mean the Dominions are merely to be asked to state their needs and requirements? Are we to continue to be the national cash register?"Another motion was defeated. It was a purely formal one moved by Commander A. R. J. Southby, Conservative, expressing means of disapproval of the naval programme, which the Conservatives contend is inadequate to the Empire's needs. The vote was 219 to 138.

WELCOME NEWS

As the debate was drawing to a close, the news was flashed to the House that the United States Senate had ratified the naval treaty.Premier MacDonald, on learning it, exclaimed: "Splendid! I am tremendously pleased. This puts America in the place she is out to occupy in these matters. The decision is most timely."ONTARIO POLICE

Not Offered to C.N.R.,

Statement Appearing in New York WorldWinnipeg, July 22.—James Richardson, owner of the Western Canada Airways Limited, to-day characterized as "incorrect" a report from New York, that the Canadian Government, through the Canadian National Railways, might take over aviation development in Canada, starting in the west. It was reported the Western Canada Airways had offered an option to the Canadian National Railways."I'm not selling the Western Canada Airways to anybody," stated Mr. Richardson. "I am not offering an option to anybody. There is nothing I have to say in connection with the report.
If there are any developments, the information will be given out at the right time."The New York World said:
"The complete task of developing commercial aviation in the Dominion of Canada may be taken over by the Canadian Government through the Associated Canadian National Railways, it has been learned. Through sources close to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, it was learned serious discussions which may lead to such a step are under way."Western Canada Airways may be the first field of operation, as the controlling interest in the Western Canada Airways, the biggest operator in that field, is understood to have offered an option to the Canadian National Railways.
Sir Henry, taking example from the Pennsylvania Railway, is understood to be keenly interested in the proposal.
"Although it has been rumored the Canadian Pacific Railway may be taken into the plan, no confirmation has been obtained.""It is unlikely any definite move will be made until after July 26, the date of the Dominion election."NEW MEASURES TO INCREASE
EMPLOYMENTPremier MacDonald Directs Steps Being Taken in BritainLondon, July 22.—The continued increase of unemployment in Great Britain is viewed with as much apprehension with respect to the approaching winter that Premier Macdonald has taken personal charge of a new drive to offset the evil.
Not since 1925 has the present total of 1,600,000 workless persons been surpassed. Then it was 1,900,000, but that was when Great Britain was in the business slump which followed the post war boom and several labor disputes, the most serious of which was the 1921 coal strike.There is some indication the Labor Government is still considering the proposal to pension off the old workers, although St. Hon. Philip Snowden has publicly banded and barred the treasury door on any further expenditures of that sort.The Prime Minister, who is now free of his preoccupations with the London Naval Conference, has decided to apply all his energies to the unemployment problem, relieving St. Hon. J. T.
Thomas of the thankless job he had held the past year.

CABINET COMMITTEE

Mr. MacDonald has begun as chairman of a cabinet committee which includes all ministers in charge of departments concerned in any way with investigations and formulation of remedial measures with respect to unemployment.This means in effect the concentration of all the government's resources.
A still further step taken is the temporary withdrawal from their ordinary duties of a group of distinguished civil service employees to help the government in its effort. The group, constituted as a committee of officials, has Sir John Anderson, permanent secretary of the Home Office, as chairman.
The Minister's economic adviser has also been attached to the officials' committee.This new "general staff" is already working on unemployment, and the government hopes it may have some concrete results before winter arrives.NEW FINANCE

Canberra, Aus., July 22.—After a conference held in camera yesterday between Sir Otto Neidmeyer, financial expert of the Bank of England, the presidents of the Commonwealth trading banks and the treasury of New South Wales and members of the Federal Loan Council, Premier Scullin, who was present, announced a tentative agreement had been made providing for the mobilization of exchanges.As soon as the agreement was confirmed by the Federal Loan Council it would be put into effect, the Prime Minister said.Mr. Scullin expressed satisfaction with the progress of the emergency financial conference so far. Under the new plan the government of Australia will have direct cash available funds in the hands of banks in London. The Federal Loan Council will administer these available funds, and will keep in close touch with banking leaders.Mr. Scullin also announced that the government would not take any action to reduce the salaries of ministers and members of the Federal Senate and House of Representatives, a course which had been suggested by Hon. J.
C. Latham, leader of the Nationalist opposition.

THAT MEMORABLE PICNIC SPEECH

SENATOR GIDEON ROBERTSON'S speech at Nanaimo yesterday included the statement that Mr. Dickie was listened to in the councils of the Conservative party with the greatest attention, that none ranked higher when his opinion was expressed on questions of public policy.

More than usual interest attaches to this information from one so close to Mr. Bennett as Senator Robertson, since we have Mr. Dickie's assurance that if a Conservative government shall be elected to office next Monday, one of the first policies it would apply to public affairs would be that which considers that "to the victors belong the spoils."

Nearly twelve months ago Mr. Dickie made a speech at a Conservative picnic at Esquimalt. He was not quite satisfied with the comments upon that speech which appeared in The Times, so he wrote the following letter to the editor:

I have always been treated so fairly by your good self that I feel sure you will have corrected a slight inadvertency that crept into an excerpt of a report on my remarks at the Esquimalt Conservative picnic. I said in part: "When our party gets in power, if I am your member, I will at once consult with the various executives of this large constituency; will obtain and assemble their views, and bring my best judgment to bear on them; for most certainly the views of those who have borne the burden and heat of the day when we were out of power should be accorded every consideration. In this way a perfect machine could be built up, and it might be found necessary, as with a ship in distress, to jettison otherwise valuable cargo."

The Times has no record that this proposal to "jettison otherwise valuable cargo" and to build up a "perfect machine" has been repudiated by Mr. Bennett. From Senator Robertson, however, we have the assurance that none ranks higher in the councils of the Conservative party when questions of public policy are discussed than Mr. Dickie.

When the voters of the important riding of Nanaimo go to the polls next Monday it would appear to be in their own interests to make sure that Mr. Dickie does not get an opportunity of building up his machine even as a member of the opposition in the next Parliament.

THE SENATE APPROVES

IN SPITE OF THE OPPOSITION, LED BY Senator Johnson from California, the United States Senate ratified the London naval treaty yesterday by a vote of fifty-eight to nine. One minor reservation was adopted, but a dozen were completely snowed under, an indication of how the senatorial mind interprets public opinion in the republic in regard to this matter.

In all the countries party to the treaty considerable opposition to its provisions has been manifested; but it has been confined mainly to naval experts and the builders of battleships. The public as a whole welcomed the pact, not only because of the material economies that will be effected by its operation, but more especially because it is new evidence that nations, as represented by governments, are gradually becoming more accustomed to policies that make for international friendliness.

It is unfortunate, of course, that France and Italy were not able to compose their differences in time to subscribe to the treaty in its entirety. They do not seem to have made much progress toward this end in the meantime. But the fact remains that each time nations come together to discuss disarmament, some good must come out of it. Even the sceptics have to admit this much. And each agreement, such as that reached in London, reduces the risk of war.

THE VOICE OF THE FLAME

WHEN SOBER SCIENTISTS UNDER- take to put on a show, they can usually stage something that makes ordinary vaudeville wonders look simple.

A group of the General Electric Company's engineers the other day set up a radio device to make light waves audible, just for the edification of the convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

First one of the engineers held a lighted match in front of a photo-electric cell. A dull rumbling, like thunder, came from an attached loudspeaker. Then a Neo lamp was passed before the cell. A steady hum proceeded from the loudspeaker. Following this an ordinary incandescent bulb was put in front of the "mouth piece," and a roar that almost shook the building was forthcoming.

There were other tricks of a similar order. A specially-made German lamp produced a noise like the siren of a fire engine. A Swiss lamp made a noise like a hoot owl. A battery lamp gave out sounds like the thumping of a bass drum. And so on, marvel after marvel.

Now all of this, on the surface, may not look imposing but it is just a reminder of the fact that scientists have uncovered a whole universe of profound mysteries, lying hidden all about us. To be able to hear the queer noises made by light waves is thrilling enough in all conscience. The medieval alchemist hunting for the elixir of life was never on the trail of anything half so thrilling.

Tennyson, observing a common flower blooming in a chink in a stone wall, remarked that if he could but fully understand that bit of vegetable growth, from beginning to end, he "would know what God and man is." The modern scientist is in the same position. If one could fully understand this business of light waves that produce thunder, drum beats and siren wails, one would have a clearer picture of the universe than any mortal that ever lived.

All of which is just another way of saying that the earth is compacted of profound mysteries. The scientists are poking into these mysteries bravely, but each one when solved merely uncovers a new one beyond it. They discover just enough to demonstrate that we live in a world of wonder.

And that, perhaps, is their chief service to us. Who can be cocksure, in a world where the tiniest flame can speak with a voice like thunder?

MR. BENNETT'S PROMISES

IT IS DIFFICULT TO RECONCILE MR. Bennett's despair of the economic fate of Canada with the programme of expenditure to which he has committed himself and his party in his bid for office. He is trying to convince the Canadian people that the policies of the King government have brought the country to the brink of an abyss over which we shall be plunged unless the present administration at Ottawa shall be given its marching orders. Yet to nearly every riding from one end of the Dominion to the other he has promised things—a tunnel here and a bridge there, ferries, public buildings, canals and railway branch lines—that The Manitoba Free Press estimates would cost something like $700,000,000 to carry out. So if the Conservative leader is really serious and sincere in these matters, if he really believes Canada can afford to spend a sum which is nearly half as much as the national debt, he effectively disposes of his own blue-ribbon campaign.

How Mr. Bennett has changed in his attitude towards the spending of public money is clearly shown in the concern he manifested in the country's finances a year or so ago. The Manitoba Free Press reminds the electors that in his campaign in 1925 for election to the House of Commons his strong speaking point was that he would oppose the investment of a single dollar of capital expenditure on the Canadian National until there was an improvement in the national finances—a course which, if followed, would have been highly successful in preventing that railway from being the factor in the transportation business of the country which it is today.

In the 1926 session of Parliament, we read further, Mr. Bennett was strongly against any substantial outlays on the Hudson Bay Railway in view of the condition of the national finances. He consented to the vote of three millions of dollars for the reconditioning of the line upon which steel had been laid, "but," he added, "from the information I have I could not under any circumstances vote to extend the railway a single foot beyond the present end of steel." These were the reasons Mr. Bennett gave for his refusal to agree to the completion of the line:

But as to any further expenditure I reserve to myself the right to have before me better evidence than I have yet seen introduced to justify it, believing that the country in the present economic condition, with the demands that are made upon the taxpayers by reason of the deficits that have to be met yearly on our National Railway system, believing, as I say, that we are not in such a position as warrants an additional dollar beyond the amount of this vote being spent on the route until we have evidence to convince our shareholders that such expenditure is warranted in the light, not of sentiment, but of economic principles and of economic reasons.

Mr. Bennett's chief trouble in the present campaign, of course, is to prove to the people that a government headed by him could solve every problem with which Canada is faced. He knows the electors have no proof of his capacity to govern, whereas the record and policies of the King government have satisfied the Canadian people.

IDOLS AND KISSES

THIS EPISODE OF YOUNG MISS AMY Johnson and the man she slapped provokes certain meditations about the difference between male idols and female idols.

Miss Johnson, as you know, is the heroine of the British Empire nowadays because she flew, alone, in a second-hand plane, from London to Australia. She is being feted and dined on a lavish scale. And the other day, in Australia, an ardent young man stepped up to her automobile and kissed her.

Amy wasted no time. She hauled off and socked him one, leaving him with a bloody nose and a sincere conviction that a famous young aviatrix is not to be kissed with impunity. Which, of course, is quite all right.

But male flyers, or heroes of any kind, are different. Lindbergh was pursued by the kisses of many fair admirers, and while he missed most of them, he could never use his fists to convince any of the girls that he preferred to stay unloved. That privilege is reserved for the feminine element. Any famous young man, apparently, must grin and bear it. It is only the girl who can swing a lusty right to stave off an unwanted kiss.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE AMERICAN "TALKIE"
The Melbourne Australia

It is notorious that responsible people who are concerned for the purity of English speech have been much perturbed by the invasion of "talkies" in which characters supposed to be in English surroundings emit sounds which are caricatures of English words. There used to be a favorite form of comedy in France which professed to satirize what was called "ig H," that is, high life, in England. It was and was intended to be, funny. American representations of life in Great Britain, high, middle, or low, are far funnier without meaning to be. But the perversions of language are not amusing. Thousands of people, including the young at the sensitive age, attend picture theatres, and tend to pick up an accent and pronunciation which are in themselves a species of immorality.

PROGRESS
The Natal Advertiser

(An article on the thirtieth anniversary of the relief of Mafeking.) We think Mafeking will go down in history as the last time Britain ever lost its head over a victory won on the battlefield. There will be wars in the future. We do not doubt this, though we deplore it. In years to come the cupid of statesmen or the vanity of democracies will end in innocent and well-meaning fellows blasting each other to perdition because they do not talk the same tongue. But the illusion of war has gone for good. What in battle is there to sing Paeans over? That you have slain your foe is but another way of saying you have made some woman a widow and some child an fatherless; and he is a poor creature who would throw up his hat over that.

Loose Ends

That excellent arrangement, the modern week-end, followed by the modern week—some surprise across the border concerning us—And the great stone wall on our lake.

By H. B. W.

THERE is nothing, I find, to prepare you for the rigors of civilization like the modern week-end in the country. A lot of other fellows have found that, too. They dash away on Saturday afternoon, they plunge into our lake, they chop some wood for the fire, they go for a jolly in the canoe and they sleep like a log. On Sunday they live an amphibious existence in their bathing suits and on Monday morning they rise with the lark, take a final plunge into the lake and then motor to town. And as they breathe day malarial he is almost able to do his job again, but it is too late for him, he must be off once more to the lake. It is to be hoped that the five-day week will never become an established arrangement in business, for there is little enough time now to get up for the next week-end. Our constitution is not strong enough to stand the strain of two full days of modern leisure.

A REVIEWER in The New York Times has lately been reviewing Leslie Robertson's book on prominent Canadians, called "These Be Your Gods." It is a very interesting book indeed, but what struck the American reviewer most was the book itself but the Canadian character which it reflected. He found to his evident surprise that the Canadian people have a unique trait of character not to be found elsewhere—they do great things without ever realizing it, or stopping to talk about it. They make a success of government, railway, or anything on an unprecedented scale, they build a new Welland Canal, they erect the Trail smelter, they carry a railway to Hudson Bay, they become the fifth trading nation of the world, and this reviewer says they don't seem to think they have done anything of note. The world has never before had a people of such a population which has accomplished half so much, and never a nation which talked so little of its accomplishments.

THE AMERICAN observer is at a loss to explain these things, but probably he would find it is inevitable further that they are due to three causes. Our British character dislikes self-praise and, living next to the United States, with its huge population and unlimited wealth, our works seem small by comparison. If we lived out in the middle of the Pacific, or in the middle of the desert, or in the middle of the jungle, we should have better ideas of their magnitude. And besides all that, a certain class of politicians has been hammering into us for years the idea that we are in a perpetual state of ruin, until some people have begun to think it is true. But so long as we go ahead and do things, it is no matter if we don't talk about them. They talk for themselves. And if we can become known in the world as a modest nation as well as a successful one, our success will be all the greater.

I TOLD YOU yesterday of the man who is spending his holidays and finding his salvation up at our lake watering a tiny bed of nasturtiums, which cannot possibly bloom before his holidays are over. To-day I found another fellow who is investigating himself in more enduring fashion. For five years now he has been building a stone wall along his beach, and the great wall of China was not built with greater labor or more careful planning. For five years he has lugged great stones down from the woods and piled them on top of the other top of the other high-water mark, with a skill truly remarkable. Every rock fits into its place exactly, the outer faces of the wall are smooth and unbroken, and the whole thing shows the marks of master craftsmanship. The wall stretches about 100 feet and has run now three feet in height. But to fulfill the dream of its builder, it must stretch 200 feet and rise five feet, for behind it he intends to place earth from the woods and grow flowers and shrubs in it, overhanging the water. At the present rate I suppose the wall will take five years more at least, and the earth will require about an equal time. Working only on week-end (and tiring himself out for the ensuing week) my friend finds the going slow. But rock by rock the wall has been growing these five summers as regularly as the rise and fall of the lake.

THE BUILDER of this great project is not a young man any more. I think by the time the wall is complete he will have passed three-score years and ten and may easily be three score years and fifteen when the flowers are planted. But this doesn't worry him. He is erecting a monument to himself for all time, and doesn't care if future generations remember his name or not, so long as his wall stands. I asked him to-day what use it all was, why he didn't enjoy his week-end like ordinary people instead of laboring from morning to night with his sledge-hammer and his rock. "Why, my boy," he replied, pointing to his masterpiece, "there is, well, a wall that is a wall. It is built like the old Roman walls of England, which still stand, and it will stand like them for hundreds of years." This was not a very logical explanation, but on his face was an expression which told me that, though he holds an important office in the government of this country, it means nothing to him compared to the completion of his wall. And though he should die the day after the wall is completed and the flowers planted he will be well pleased—not because he has left himself a monument, but because in his own odd way he has expressed his immortal soul. He has found, I suppose, that there is something in a wall which he has built himself, stone by stone, with his own hands, which he can never find in an important office in the government, something very close to immortality.

CITY SPLITS FENCING COST AT WILLOWS

Fencing at the north end of the Willows air grounds, necessitated by the removal of the existing fence by the Colwood Park Association during the building of the new track, was considered by the city council yesterday evening. The city will have to undertake half the cost and the B.C. Agricultural Association the rest. It was decided.

It was proposed by Alderman E. S. Woodward that the whole fair grounds should be fenced at an expense of $1,500, but the smaller construction, requiring less owing to the approach of the fair, was decided.

In connection with the same grounds, it was suggested that the B.C. Agricultural Association should be expected to find a sewer underneath the old grandstand and discovered instead only a hole in the ground. The association was asked to provide sewerage, and the matter was left with the city engineer, the solicitor, the building inspector and the works committee.

Unemployed Ask Civic Relief In Plea to Council

Civic aid for unemployment was sought in a petition signed by twenty residents laid before the City Council yesterday evening.

According to the petition, all the men who signed were steady residents of the city, and most of them were in distress and had no hope of alleviating circumstances unless something was done.

J. W. Parsons, G. Kelly and J. Conboy signed the petition as representatives of the unemployed, while the other forty-three signatures were attached. The council referred the matter to the works committee.

OBJECTS TO PASTEURIZING OF CITY MILK

Alderman E. S. Woodward Opposes Clause in Milk By-law Before Council

Objection to city compulsion of pasteurization of milk from private dairy farms was expressed by Alderman E. S. Woodward during consideration of the new milk by-law by the City Council yesterday evening.

The by-law was given three readings and first passage by the council, Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, explaining that in effect it was the same as the old by-law with a change in the manner of paying license fees. Alderman Woodward took exception to a clause which compelled the pasteurizing of grade "C" milk. He did not favor pasteurization, and would prefer the selling of this grade of milk unpasteurized if people wanted to buy it.

"It is only a case of selling half-cooked bad milk," he asserted.

Dr. Felton took issue with the statement. The alderman was putting his opinion against that of experts who had studied pasteurization for fifty years, he said.

"Experts have condemned pasteurization, and so did the late medical health officer," returned Alderman Woodward, moving that the provision be struck out. The motion was defeated.

The by-law went through its readings and was passed with Alderman Woodward recording his objection to the clause in question.

POLICE HEAD RETURNS HOME

Col. J. H. McMullin Studies Latest Methods of Scotland Yard During Course

Back from England, where he spent five weeks in company with police commissioners from all parts of the Empire in intensive study of the methods of the Metropolitan Police Force of London, Col. J. H. McMullin, Commissioner of the British Columbia Provincial Police, is back at his desk in Victoria this morning.

After a week's holiday in England Superintendent McMullin commenced his studies which included three weeks visiting departments of Scotland Yard. Noted criminologists gave demonstrations of their methods, and every branch of police work from regulating traffic to solving baffling crime mysteries, came in the scope of the course. The last two weeks were taken up with a series of lectures on "Police Subjects for Senior Officers," Sir Bernard Spillbury, the well-known pathologist, being among the lecturers.

Any changes introduced in the methods of the B.C. force would be gradual and in accordance with a policy of improvement when and wherever possible, Col. McMullin said on his return.

PROPOSES NEW VOTING SYSTEM

F. M. Hunter Submits Scheme to Improve Balloting on Money By-laws

F. M. Hunter, city clerk of Victoria, submitted a proposal to the City Council yesterday evening for the improvement of the municipal voting system here, recommending that his suggestion be forwarded to the Union of B.C. Municipalities for consideration.

Inclusion of the ballot for voting on money by-laws in the ballot book now used for aldermanic and municipal voting is proposed by Mr. Hunter, who was the originator of the balloting system now in use.

Two sets of ballot books would be prepared under the new arrangement, one set being handed to property owners, eligible to vote on money by-laws, and the others to the ordinary voters.

Necessity for dual voting arrangements in civic elections would be eliminated under the scheme, which is further aided by amendments to the Municipal Act as the last session in which the polling hours for ordinary voting and by-law balloting are brought into accordance.

The proposal was referred to the finance committee for report.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, JULY 22, 1905

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Southerly and westerly winds, continued fine and warm.

In the shipment of spring salmon brought from the Straits yesterday afternoon, there were no fish weighing under 30 pounds, and many of them tilted the scales at 60 pounds.

This afternoon the O.P.R. excursion on the steamer City of Nanaimo to the fish traps at the entrance of Sooke Harbor proved very successful, a number having to be left behind because of the ship's passenger limit had been reached.

To-day the little steamer Shamrock, which carried excursionists to the Gorge, is looking sadly the worse of a scorching which she received late last evening. When not in the Gorge service she is berthed at Pratt's wharf in the Upper Harbor. It was here that she was found by the fire department in a mass of flames at 11.30 last evening.

A party of C.P.R. officials, including Grant Hall, Winnipeg, superintendent of the motive power on western lines, and Wm. Cross of the same place, assistant to the second vice-president, have come to the coast to inspect the E. and N. railway, this being their first trip over the line since it was acquired by the C.P.R.

Yesterday in the Lewis and Clark International tennis tournament at Portland, Oregon, B. F. Schwengers of the U.S.A. was defeated by McBurney of Spokane, after a desperate struggle. The final score was 4-8, 8-4, 12-10, 6-4.

LABOR PEOPLE URGED TO VOTE FOR LIBERAL

Winnipeg, July 22.—Laborites were urged to vote for the Federal Liberal candidate in Winnipeg South by H. W. Wyatt, prominent member of the Independent Labor Party at a meeting he addressed yesterday evening. Mr. Wyatt charged that C. A. Tanner, was running as a Labor candidate without the backing of labor. Members of the Labor Party knew nothing of his candidature, Mr. Wyatt said.

Mr. Tanner is the third entry in the Winnipeg South contest. J. S. McDiarmid, who represented the constituency in the last House of Commons, and Hon. Robert Rogers, Conservative, are the other candidates.

the ravages of the Forest Fire, but not everybody realizes that seventy per cent of our fires in 1929 were preventable; in other words, they were due simply to carelessness. ST. PAUL'S WAS FOUNDED WHEN NANAIMO YOUNG

Anglican Church at Nanaimo, Destroyed on Saturday, Had Great History

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, July 22.—St. Paul's Anglican Church, destroyed by fire on Saturday, has a history which goes back to the earliest days of Nanaimo, the parish having originated in the year 1859, when the Bishop of Columbia sent Rev. T. L. Lowe of Durham, a missionary of the Society of the Propagation of the Gospel to take charge of Nanaimo. Mr. Lowe is regarded as the first incumbent of St. Paul's Church, Nanaimo. He remained about twelve months during which time the site of the church and rectory were acquired.

In September, 1861, the Bishop appointed Rev. J. A. Good to the parish, who built the old church, laying the foundation stone on Christmas Day, 1861. Also in August, 1862, he opened an Indian school and chapel. Louis Good, the chief's son, serving as catechist in the mission.

The old St. Paul's was consecrated by the Bishop of Columbia on Sunday, August 27, 1865, having cost about $2,500. In April, 1866, Mr. Good resigned and was followed by Rev. Percival Jencks, who remained two years during which a handsome stone font was presented to the church by C. Nicol, as a memorial offering connected with the baptism of his first child.

Rev. H. P. Green was in charge until the close of 1871. Then came the veteran Cariboo missionary, Rev. W. Reynolds, who moved to Saanich in September 1874. He was succeeded by Rev. G. Mason, who subsequently became Archdeacon of Vancouver.

In July, 1878 Archdeacon Mason resigned, after securing important additions to the church. He was a most eloquent preacher, a faithful parish priest, practical and wise. He inaugurated the hospital at Nanaimo and was beloved by the whole congregation. Following the Archdeacon came the Rev. H. Newton, who remained two years. Rev. W. A. Malachi and Rev. W. Hays Clark, who left in October, 1882. But little, if any, progress was made, the records showing the church was run down and the buildings dilapidated. Rev. J. E. Good was reappointed and instituted rector in 1883 and remained until 1889, being appointed honorary Canon of the Cathedral in 1892.

Canon Good was succeeded by Rev. C. E. Cooper, M.A., of Cambridge, who was instituted rector on November 22, 1899. The work accomplished by Mr. Cooper is fresh within the memory of all. He initiated new movements, secured property for the church, effected an endowment, and built the imposing rectory. With large-hearted liberality he assisted this work from his own purse and his name will long be remembered.

Rev. Silva White, M.A., of Trinity University, Toronto, was appointed rector in November, 1904, and was chiefly instrumental in the building of the church destroyed on Saturday. The handsome Gothic structure had a seating capacity of 350 people and occupied one of the most prominent sites in the city. Mr. White resigned in May, 1916, to accept the vicarage of St. Peter's Sunderland, after a ministry of over four years in Nanaimo. Rev. E. Cockshott of Sumasland succeeded to the rectorship of St. Paul's and remained until December, 1917. In January, 1918, the Rev. S. Ryall formerly vicar of Chemsaints and Westlake, was appointed rector and was in turn succeeded by Rev. Harry V. Hitchcock, the present rector.

TEN WOMEN ARE CANDIDATES

Number of Feminine Aspirants to Federal House Doubles
By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Ottawa, July 22.—Women candidates will play a greater part in the federal election than ever before. The last few days have seen the number of women candidates almost doubled. There are now ten of them in the field, three of them in Ontario and one in Quebec—bearing the official Liberal standard. Mrs. Kennedy, one of the Ontario women candidates, is the widow of the minister of railways in the first King government. In Saskatchewan two women candidates represent the new Farmer party. Three women were nominated in 1928, four in 1929. Miss Agnes Macphail is the only woman so far elected to the Dominion House. She has sat in three parliaments.

ABANDON BABIES IN WHOLESALE LOTS IN QUEBEC

Police Discover Organization Which Gets Rid of Unwanted Infants

$50 Charged For "Service"; Thirty-three Babies Left on Doorsteps

Montreal, Que., July 22.—Facing a charge of abandoning babies in her care, Mrs. H. Dorion, matron of a private St. Denis street hospital, has been arrested and released on $500 bail. She will appear for enquest July 24. Police declared to-day they had evidence that in thirty-three abandoned cases the matron had received $50 for her efforts in securing foster parents to adopt the children. Nurses of the private hospital were taken to St. Genevieve and Granby and, according to the chief, identified babies as ones which had been entrusted to the institution for adoption.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., July 22.—Provincial police who have been investigating the numerous cases in which new-born babies have been abandoned in this vicinity during recent months, announced yesterday that they had discovered evidence of an association, headed by women, which, for the sum of $50 per child, disposed of unwanted babies. Since April 10 last, thirty-three tiny children have been left on doorsteps or otherwise deserted to become foundlings. In Three Rivers, Grandy and St. Hyacinthe.

A woman had been arrested and released on bail in connection with the case, police stated. According to the theory of provincial and local police, those who have been placing children on doorsteps and porches of private homes and institutions in this district, sometimes in wholesale lots, operate from Montreal, distributing babies over an area within a hundred miles radius of the city.

Recently four children, only a few days old, wrapped in flannel nightgowns, were found on the veranda of Adelard Fortin, in Granby. Last July 11 a group of three new-born children, wrapped in ragged clothing, were left during the night on the porch of L'ouvroire-St. Genevieve, a home for children, in St. Hyacinthe. Of these one died from exposure. Other desertions have been scattered throughout the country, but a check up by police showed that there were twenty such desertions in Three Rivers alone last April 10. The wholesale desertions at Granby and St. Hyacinthe aroused the police to the belief that an organized gang was responsible and they concentrated on that theory.

Nurses from a Montreal maternity home were brought to St. Hyacinthe to examine the children and the clothes in which they were discovered, and they were identified as having been born in the institution in which the children found deserted in Granby and were equally convinced that the babies were from the maternity home in Montreal.

In the majority of cases the foundlings were adopted. According to the police theory the gang works at night, loading an automobile with a collection of infants and depositing them at various points within a night's round trip of the city. The name of the woman arrested and released on bail was not revealed.

FILM PLAY OF "JOURNEY'S END" GRIPS AUDIENCE

Creates Strong Impression at Private Advance Showing at Playhouse

Adding a touch of realism to the drama and pathos of the play from which it was derived, the British-made screen version of "Journey's End" will appear at the Playhouse Theatre next week. This sound photoplay was voted a great success yesterday evening at a private showing in the Playhouse. Colin Clive plays a leading role in this story, which follows the trench warfare which closely follows the great play of the same name which achieved such success in London and New York last season. The camera allows greater scope for expression than does the stage, however, and the moving picture includes a number of shots of trench life which were not possible in the legitimate production. At the same time the sequence of the original story is closely followed, and most of the passages which in such force to the play are retained intact. A splendid cast supports Mr. Clive who is now playing in London.

QUESTION DEAD WOMAN'S STORY

Vancouver Jury Finds Mrs. Scheidel Died of Poisoning, Not Drugged

Vancouver, July 22.—Mrs. Kathleen Scheidel, aged twenty-four, who died in hospital ten days after she was found unconscious in her home on July 8, came to her death as a result of poison self-administered, according to a verdict returned by a coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday. Medical men to-day testified that the woman had died from results of mercurial poisoning.

The jury's verdict was returned, despite the fact that Mrs. Scheidel maintained right up to the time of her death that she had been attacked, beaten and drugged by two men who had forced their way into her home. She was found unconscious by her husband when he returned from work on the night of July 8, while their two children were suffering from bruises and the house was in great disorder.

Dr. K. D. Pantou, police surgeon, testified that when he was called he discovered a spot on Mrs. Scheidel's forearm which could not have been there had any liquid or poison been administered by any outsider.

In addition to Dr. Pantou, the other medical men who testified were Dr. A. W. Hunter, who performed the autopsy, Dr. A. C. Boyle and Dr. Joseph H. Grant.

Dr. Hunter and City Analyst Vance said death must have occurred from mercurial poisoning.

Judging from the entry list the should see the advent of several stars into the ranks of distance winners. With the exception George Burrows, and possibly Norman, both of Vancouver, the names and speed of the entries is comparatively unknown. While Burrows stands out as a probable winner, city has entered several good jacks and should push him to the limit the cup. Whether or not there dark horse among the contenders rock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth and probably final hope of recapturing the America's Cup, yesterday embarked on an adventure in U. S. waters. The challenger, proud, young and beautiful, despite the crooping of her mast to meet rugged weather conditions during her voyage of about a month, passed the Texas coast, and sailed on her path, and shaped her course for the open sea. In the fresh northerly wind she made good time. All on board were reported well.

The Shamrock V slipped out of Brixham, Devon, soon after dawn, to resume the voyage which storms had delayed on Saturday. Her destination was New York. The cup race will be sailed off the New England coast in September.

and had not been located yesterday.

No other Texas League Club claimed Alexander when waivers were asked on him last week. He had professed Tarleton, although he admitted that he would pull himself together and stay in condition. He was signed by the Dallas Club a month ago after being released by the Philadelphia National.

Shades of the Past—Longboat vs. Shrubbs?

By JIMMY THOMPSON

It is twenty-one years since the last professional road race took place in this country. Then it was that such names as Tom Longboat, Alfie Shrubbs, Arthur Newton, the forty-seven-year-old wonder from South Africa, and Phil Grahville and Tom Ellis of Hamilton, Ontario. It is expected that the C.N.E. event would attract about fifteen European entries from the European centres, and Mr. Hughes is confident of success. All the running would be done around the Exhibition dirt track. It is the belief among the sports experts that the old sport of marathon running could be revived if handled in the proper manner. Mr. Hughes was himself a marathoner and accompanied Billy Shrubbs the day he won the world's championship at Athens. So he knows what it's all about.

Soccer Player Given Life Banishment For Attacking a Referee

Fort William, Ont., July 22.—Life banishment from soccer football is the sentence meted out by the Ontario Football Association to R. Brown, Fort William player, following an attack on a referee during a recent game at the lake head. Referee Archie Crompton was struck and his cheekbone fractured when a minor riot broke out during a cup game between the Fort William Canadian National and Fort Arthur Legion. Crompton, a veteran soccer official, and having but one arm, is still in the hospital.

WESTERNERS DO WELL IN TITLE TENNIS

Representatives From B.C. and Prairies Win in Canadian Championships

Gilbert Nunn, Canadian Davis Cup Star, Extended By Unknown Player

Representatives from British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba romped through handily against eastern opponents in men's and women's singles. Marjorie and Hope Leeming of Victoria, B.C., accompanied Olive Made, Toronto, champion of Canada, past first round foe on the women's singles. Both coast girls marked up straight set wins. Marjorie is a former Canadian champion.

Willie Lamb Is Again Canadian Pro Golf Champ

Burlington, Ont., July 22.—For the third year in succession, Willie Lamb, of the Uplands Club, of Toronto, won the championship of the Canadian Professional Golfers when he turned in a score of 71, 70-141, for the thirty-six-hole test over the Burlington course yesterday. This gave him a stroke margin on Tom McOrath, of Dundas Valley, who came in yesterday afternoon with a 67, setting a new course record with four under par.

Joe McCarthy Gets Chicago Cubs Into First Place Again

National League Champions Hurdle Brooklyn by Win Over Giants as Robins Split Double-header With St. Louis; Hendrick's Home Run in Ninth Gives Brooklyn Victory in Second Game; Athletics and Senators Both Tossed for Losses in American League; Yankees Win.

Manager Joe McCarthy, the minor leaguer who made good in the "big time" without previous major league experience, to-day had the Chicago Cubs setting the pace in the National League pennant scramble.

The Cubs moved into the ruling seat yesterday by beating the Giants, 6 to 0, while the Brooklyn Robins were breaking even with the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn taking the first encounter, 9 to 8, and the Cards the closing contest, 17 to 10. The Cubs' victory and the Robins' even break sent the champions to the front by one-half game.

Hack Wilson, the National League's home run king, played an important role in the Cubs' victory by pounding out his twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth homers.

In the Robins-Cardinals fracas, Harvey Hendrick went to bat for Plan in the ninth, with two men on base. Two out and the Robins trailing by two runs, Harvey sent the ball sailing over the fence, three runs crossed the plate and the game was over.

Lester Sweetland had one of his good days as the Phillies trimmed the Pirates 7 to 2. Home runs by Southern and Whitney featured the attack.

The leaders in the American League found the going tough, the Philadelphia Athletics losing to the Detroit Tigers 7 to 6, and the Washington Senators dropping their second successive game to the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 4.

Babe Ruth poled out his thirty-fifth home run and Lou Gehrig his twenty-eighth as Ed Wells won his eighth game when the New York Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 3.

Sox three-game winning streak by taking the final of the series, 3 to 1, behind Morace Lisenbee's fine pitching.

New York, July 22.—Two home runs by Mack Wilson and a third by Eddie Farrell paved the way for the Cubs' 6 to 0 triumph over the Giants yesterday. The three circuit clubs scored five runs while the Robins forced the other tally across the plate with three walks, preceded by a single. The win gave the Cubs the National League lead again.

Chicago, July 22.—The Cubs broke up an even break with the Robins yesterday, winning the nightcap 17 to 10, after dropping the opener, 9 to 8.

Philadelphia, July 22.—The Philadelphia Nationals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 10 to 4.

VILL ROGERS AT DOMINION THEATRE IN AMUSING STORY

One of the most entertaining audible features of the last season was "They Had To See Paris." Will Rogers' first starring picture for Fox Movietone.

When Rogers started production on his second, "So This Is London," it was said that Fox executives expressed the hope that his second picture would be as entertaining as his first.

The second was "So This Is London," now showing at the Dominion Theatre and the consensus of opinion is that it has far surpassed the first production.

Based on the successful stage play of the same title produced a decade ago by George M. Cohan, the screen version is far more entertaining than the stage play.

TITANIC SURVIVOR HAS LEADING ROLE IN COMING PICTURE

The last survivor to be rescued from the Titanic was Thomas Whitley. After clinging to wreckage for seven and a half hours he was dragged out of the icy north Atlantic water more dead than alive. Then he served for four years and seven months in the British army—one year in the Imperial Light Horse in South Africa and three years and seven months in the Royal Flying Corps. He was wounded five times, decorated twice and mentioned once in dispatches—and now he is playing the Sergeant-Major in "Journey's End," the fifteen all-dialogue production of R. C. Sheriiff's great war play showing last week at the Playhouse Theatre.

MANY PROBLEMS OF MATRIMONY AIRED IN CAPITOL FILM

Off with the old and on with the new, briefly describes the mood of Radio Pictures' "Second Wife," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

When Lila Lee comes into the picture in the title role she finds Conrad Nagel, her newly acquired husband too comfortably ensconced in a dreary home surrounded by red plush furniture, chairs of ancient design, figured carpet-war posters and a life-sized portrait of a dead wife staring down from a prominent position above the mantel-piece. "Second Wife" decides there are too many reminders of a calm and domestic peace that was—so she changes everything.

CABARET SETTING FOR MUSICAL PLAY AT THE COLUMBIA

Night club whoopee requires endless rehearsal. When the cabaret's singing star comes out on to the floor and gives a care-free rendition of a luring song, while a line of chorus girls behind her, in joyous abandon, go through intricate steps together or split up and execute apparently spontaneous gyrations the whole thing isn't as easy as it looks.

It is only the result of many long morning rehearsals.

Interesting details of this other world behind the scenes of our gay night clubs are shown in "She Couldn't Say No," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone musical drama which is now playing at the Columbia Theatre.

GILBERT EMERY IS AT THE COLISEUM

Gilbert Emery, Fox Movietone actor, who scored so heavily as the Scotland Yard detective, Sir Frederic Bruce, in "Behind That Curtain," has a novelty which he terms a "Miscrapbook." It contains nearly forty pages of clippings from various British newspapers, commenting on his performance of the role during the showings of the picture in England. In "The Sky Hawk," the all-talking Movietone romance of the world afloat, showing birdmen and Zeppelin in combat, at the Coliseum Theatre, Emery has one of the three featured roles, and again offers a remarkable performance.

PLAYHOUSE STORY HAS BEEN READ BY 5,000,000 PEOPLE

"Kitty," Warwick Deeping's novel from which the World Wide imported talking picture of the same title was adapted and which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is one of the most popular novels ever published in America and England.

The novel was first published in 1927 and since that time it has been reprinted ten times, the latest edition being the eleventh from the press. It is said that more than five million persons have read the novel.

HYDROGENATION TO GIVE BIGGER GASOLINE OUTPUT

Development of New Process Undertaken By Standard Oil Company

New York, July 22.—Carrying out plans announced some time ago, the Standard Oil Company, the holding company for the hydrocarbon patent rights of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the I. G. Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft of Germany, has transferred these patents for the United States to the Hydro Patents Company, a newly organized Delaware concern.

The following oil refining interests have been created by the new Hydro Patents Company, the Atlantic Refining Company, the Standard Oil Company, the Cities Service Company, the Continental Oil Company, the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation, the Pure Oil Company, the Shell Union Oil Company, the Sinclair Refining Company, the Skelly Oil Company, the Standard Oil Company of California, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the Standard Oil Company of New York, the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, the Texas Company, the Union Oil Company of California and the Vacuum Oil Company.

With a minimum of 500 shares, the holdings of these concerns, including the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, are in proportion to their crude running capacities. Control of these patent rights within this country there passes to the prospective users of the process, the announcement said. It also was announced that the oil companies which are interested in the company, during the coming year, will make intensive investigations of the process, particularly when and if the process shall have been so far developed "as to be capable of profitable application in plants of smaller size than those which now seem the minimum," it was officially announced.

"In view of the direct bearing of the hydrogenation process upon the question of conservation of oil supplies, and its effect of lifting the average quality level of gasoline, kerosene, lubricating oil, fuel oil, diesel oil and other principal petroleum products, it may safely be assumed that the policy of the company will be dictated by the interests of the industry in general," the announcement says.

The Hydro Patents stockholders have a daily running crude capacity of 2,383,700 barrels, as compared with a total United States capacity of the United States oil industry of 3,765,585 barrels, according to the announcement. About twenty per cent of this is in small units, or in so-called "skimming plants," which have never been in a position to employ the more intensive complete refining methods upon which the industry rests.

In substantial part, the output of these units of the industry has been used as raw material in the plants of the larger companies in which complete refining is carried out. The companies which have taken over the control of the hydrogenation process "therefore represent at least eighty per cent of the refining capacity of the United States potentially available for the adoption of the hydrogenation method."

Wiley's Fight For Honesty Not Yet Won

Washington, July 22.—The death of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, father of the Pure Food and Drug Act of 1906, has brought back into prominence the situation in regard to adulteration and misrepresentation, practically against which he fought for fifty years. During the thirty years Dr. Wiley directed the government's Bureau of Chemistry, his crusades against "manufacturers of death" and the activities of his "poison squad," which aimed at the foods alleged to be unfit, kept the cause of pure food in the public eye from week to week. Since Dr. Wiley's forced retirement from public office in 1912, little has been heard of food menaces, and the general public has been lulled into complacent confidence in the guardianship provided by enforcement of the Pure Food Laws.

Characterizing this confidence as "entirely unjustified," food analysts informed The World that conditions today are actually more dangerous than in the days of Dr. Wiley's "poison squad." The best chemists in the country have devoted their ingenuity to perpetrating new frauds and circumventing the restrictions of the law, they declared. Legally, the Pure Food and Drug Act of 1906 is virtually paralyzed, thanks to the work of expert lobbyists. Department of Agriculture officials publicly described their policy as keyed "to let industry set its own standard."

Throughout his life, Dr. Wiley campaigned against food products treated with benzoate acid, benzoate of soda, sulphuric acid, alum, sulphates, borax and similar aids to preservation and cheap merchandising. These, he claimed, caused millions of families indigestion, and in many cases induced slow poisoning. He denounced a long succession of "health" products which utilized publicized scientific theories concerning vitamins, thyroid, mineral salts, etc., for fantastic claims, while government intervention lagged years behind. Fraudulent cosmetics, insecticides and cure-all medicines flourished in open defiance of the law, he charged.

Boy Showed Ability As a Businessman Anthony Cooper was only thirteen, but he could look out for himself. His father and mother had died and left a large estate in trust for him. The boy studied the bookkeeping of the estate and found that his guardian had cheated him out of some of his land. He went all by himself to see the King's attorney, and ask for justice. He explained everything so clearly, and pleaded for his rights with such cleverness that the man of law was impressed and promised to look into the matter.

The boy left a page of figures with him, and thanked him for listening to his case.

The lawyer rose and shook his hand gravely. "I will defend your case to the utmost," he declared, "even though I should lose my place for it."

It is not strange that Anthony Ashley Cooper, first Earl of Shaftesbury, grew up to become a great English statesman. He was born July 22, 1621.

LOGAN AND BRYAN
BUY OUT PIERCE

Combined Brokerage System to Be Under John G. Kellam

The New York Stock Exchange house of Logan and Bryan has purchased the British Columbia interests of E. A. Pierce and Co., and all agencies in Vancouver and Victoria of the combined system will be under the general control of John G. Kellam, Canadian coast manager of Logan and Bryan at Vancouver, and formerly of Victoria.

Logan and Bryan is the largest international wire house and links every city of importance in United States and Canada. E. A. Pierce and Co. have been Logan and Bryan's greatest competitors. Both chains have maintained their own branch offices in Vancouver and besides have built a number of physical amalgamation in Vancouver and Victoria, with Branson, Brown and Co. in Victoria linked up with Logan and Bryan and the B.C. Bond Corporation being the correspondents of E. A. Pierce and Co.

S. Campbell Sweeney, manager for E. A. Pierce and Co. in Vancouver, will continue the business there until the physical amalgamation is completed and will then be taken in the Logan and Bryan organization.

Overhead costs in the present period of market depression will be cut by the merger, it was explained.

Logan and Bryan will continue the connection of the Victoria brokerage firms through the Vancouver office, it was announced, and firms which had been under Logan and Bryan connection before will be enabled to continue under the new control without any interruption to their business.

Ken B. Bryan, head of the firm which bears his name, announced from New York that he is leaving for Victoria, and will spend some time here and up the island. At Campbell River he will seek to gratify his life's ambition to catch a fifty-pound salmon.

"We are enabled to give an even more efficient service than before, as a result of the change and the establishment of the new connection," said H. E. Boorman, head of the B.C. Bond Corporation.

Mr. Bryan long-distanced Mr. Boorman from New York and they completed their plans over the telephone. Mr. Bryan also made a flying trip date up the island with Mr. Boorman.

NONAGENARIAN CHASTISES HIS SON, AGED 57

Portland, Ore., July 22.—Answering a call from excited neighbors, police last night reached the home of J. Brouard Sr., ninety-six, just as the aged man finished chastising his son, J. Brouard, fifty-seven.

The elder Brouard said Brouard the younger had used a forbidden word—one that had not been permitted in the house in seventy odd years. Being master of his own home, Brouard simply had exercised the parental authority. The officers could not see anything wrong with that and withdrew.

YOUNG BRIDE
LOST HUSBAND
IN AIR CRASH

Was Waiting in London For Lieut.-Col. G. L. P. Henderson, Pilot of Mystery Plane

Marquis of Dufferin Among Six Who Lost Lives

Meopham, Kent, Eng., July 22.—A bride of a few months ago, among those who have claimed bodies of victims of yesterday's mysterious airplane tragedy here.

Mrs. Henderson, young wife of Lieut.-Colonel George L. P. Henderson, the pilot, flew to Croydon from Le Touquet with her husband. He returned to France to bring others to Croydon and she waited him in London, completing plans for a holiday journey.

Besides Colonel Henderson those who lost their lives yesterday were four society figures—Viscountess Edmon, a famous beauty; Mrs. Henric Loeffler of London, noted for her brilliant entertainments; the Marquis of Dufferin and the Marquis of Dufferin, and the assistant pilot, Charles Shearling.

STILL A MYSTERY
The cause of the accident remained a mystery to-day. The machine, a nearly new all-metal Junkers owned by Colonel Henderson's company and used temporarily as an air taxi, was seen to fly to pieces in the air.

The wreckage showed that a gas-line explosion was not the cause, however, as the tanks were undamaged, and there were no signs of fire.

A newspaper said an air ministry expert believed the plane had strangely turned upside down in the air, the victims thereby being thrown through the top and hurled to their deaths.

LITVINOFF NEW SOVIET FOREIGN OFFICE HEAD

Appointed to Post Following Resignation of Georges Tchitcherin

Moscow, July 22.—Georges Tchitcherin, Soviet Commissar of Foreign Affairs, resigned his post yesterday and his resignation was accepted by the General Executive Committee. He had a brilliant record as a statesman.

The resignation had been reported imminent for many months because of the commissar's ill-health. After treatment at Wiesbaden in Germany, he returned to Moscow early in June and his retirement was then definitely forecast.

A new line-up was presented at the Commissariat for Foreign Affairs as a result.

Maxim Litvinoff, who for some time had been Acting Commissar, was appointed to succeed M. Tchitcherin by the General Executive Committee.

Nikolai Mikhailevich Kravtinsky, present Soviet Ambassador to Germany, was appointed First Vice-commissar, in place of M. Litvinoff, and Lev Mikhailovich Karakhan, Second Vice-commissar.

The board at the Commissariat will consist of M. Kravtinsky, M. Karakhan and M. Boris Stomoniako.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Winnipeg, July 22.—Wheat: The wheat market was fairly steady to-day with prices holding within a narrow range, there being no particular feature in the trade passing, which was not large.

Early prices were about 1/4 higher, with a little buying by export and seaboard houses going on, but after this demand was satisfied prices fell 1/4 lower than the previous close, only 1/2 cent again to the high points, with short covering, the market being largely influenced by the strength in corn, which was sharply higher. However, the buying was largely by locals, who had sold earlier in the day, no outside interest being shown.

Chicago sold Winnipeg October at times, which was spreading, but otherwise offerings were very light, the local crowd not getting far from shore. Overnight export sales were estimated at 1 1/2 million bushels, while from yesterday morning till this morning total sales were said to be 2,000,000 bushels, foreigners having bought on the scale down yesterday.

There was a good demand for most grades of cash wheat, and bids on some were 1/4 to 1/2 higher. Large holders are apparently looking for further improvement in prices.

Following the week-end rains weather conditions in western Canada have been about perfect, being clear with moderate temperatures and light winds.

There appears to be considerable apprehension as to the American corn crop, and it is feared that rather heavy damage has resulted from the high temperatures of last week. The farmers in the south-west are reported to be feeding considerable wheat in the place of corn, the latter being difficult to secure. Wheat futures closed at higher. Corn prices were steady, but a little higher. Trade volume was not large by any means, but offerings were very light. Some fair sales of oats and barley were reported to eastern Canada, the last day or two, while a little export business in rye was confirmed.

Flax: This market was firm, but the cash month took a jump up to close 1/4 higher. Trade was small, but a little short covering in July was attempted and prices were run up by holders. Deferred months closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Liverpool due 1/4 higher, based on Winnipeg.

Wise Wife Who Plays Up to Her Husband's Peculiarities—Where Are the Beautiful Girls of Yesteryear?—She Who Gets Slapped

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married six years to the man I love and I know that he loves me, though I can see that I have begun to bore him slightly and that he is tired of me for the time being. We have three little children and we are both devoted to them. My husband left in love with any other woman, it's just that I have got on his nerves because we have been too much together. Now I want to take a practical view of the situation and save my husband and my home, and I feel sure that if I could leave him for a month and go back to my old job (which I can always get) and buy some new clothes and come back all dolled up and looking like a young girl again, he would think I was the dearest thing in the world. He is like that. What do you advise? MISS H. D.

ANSWER—You have to deal with a man according to his temperament, and when a wife unriddles the riddle to which she is married, she has found out the secret of how to make her marriage a success.

You seem to have done that, because when your husband left in love with a "like that" you show that you know how he reacts to a certain situation, and that gives you your cue. For different husbands have to be treated differently.

There are men to whom nothing appeals so much as just knowing that their wives adore them, that their wives never think of any other man and that they could not lose their wives if they tried to.

There are other men whose wives can only hold them by keeping them guessing, by making their husbands uncertain of them, by making them believe that other men admire them.

There are men whose wives' greatest hold on them is that they have just become habits with them. These men like their wives to stay put, never to leave them, always to go about with them. These men seldom manifest much affection for their wives while they are alive, but when their wives die they are completely broken up because all their habits are broken up.

There are other men who get tired of their wives if they see too much of them. They get fed up on their wives as a steady diet. This type of husband is very common. He is the kind of married man who makes love to his stenographer and imagines he has ceased to love his wife just because he has got bored with her.

So wise is the wife who studies her husband and finds out what he is like and plays up to it instead of wasting her time and energy trying to make him do what he ought to do instead of what he wants to do.

If your husband admires gay, well-dressed women, by all means understand the flapper. Doll yourself up and be as interesting and amusing as you can. It's pretty hard for a woman with three children to take care of not to look and feel dragged out, and to let her conversation dwell mostly upon the nursery. But if she has a husband who is not of a domestic turn of mind, she has to feed him on something besides domestic baby food if she does not want him to eat out of some other woman's hand who offers him a line with more pep in it.

So perhaps, knowing your man, you will do well to go off and leave him for a month and get you the pretty clothes and the new things to talk about.

And if you leave the three children for him to take care of, you can rest assured that when you return you will look like a rescuing angel to him. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—How is it that we never see now the beautiful, healthy-looking girls used to see forty years ago? Is it because the young girls in their teens smoke cigarettes, drink cocktails, powder their faces and use a lipstick every few minutes and jazz all night and sleep all day, so that when they are in their early 20s they already look like old bags? GRANDFATHER.

ANSWER—The reason that girls look frail and delicate now is because they are all half-starved. Forty years ago curves were fashionable in the female anatomy and consequently girls were plump and healthy and well-fed looking. Now it is the style to be angular and the more a girl looks like a rack of bones, the smarter she is. So girls live on pickles and olives and non-fattening food, and as a result they look as if they are about to pass away from pernicious anemia.

But there is nothing else in the world so marvelous as the feminine constitution. No matter what women do to it or how they abuse it, it seems to come up smiling. And, as a matter of fact, these undernourished, fragile, little totters on the verge of the grave, are really just as healthy and strong as their plump grandmothers were.

At any rate, they seem to be able to stand a lot more than the women of the past. In old-fashioned novels the heroine was always swooning away. She had to lean on a sturdy, masculine arm if she walked a block, and it was considered a poetic and romantic thing to be an invalid and lie on a couch most of the time.

The modern girl can take a perfectly appalling amount of exercise without turning a hair. She golfs and plays tennis and swims and hikes in a way that makes a man keep the jump to keep up with her. And it is she who does the marathon-dance stunt while men cut in.

Nor do many girls who jazz at night sleep all day. Most of them earn their own living and have to punch the time clock at 9 a.m.

As for women's beauty, that is merely a matter of taste, but I think that granddaughter is quite as good-looking as grandmother was at her age.

And of this I am sure: Granddaughter looks much younger. In fact, all modern women have had at least one dip into the fountain of perpetual youth.

At forty grandmother was fat and settled and middle-aged. At sixty she was an old woman who had retired to the chimney corner and began to pick out her gall-beaters.

At forty nowadays a woman hobs her hair and rolls her stockings and looks like her debutante daughter's twin. At sixty she is buying a red hat and learning the latest dance step. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I was engaged to a man for more than a year, but we had a quarrel and he got so angry that he slapped me good and hard. I broke the engagement, although I loved the man dearly. He is trying to get me to make up with him and thinks I am very unreasonable because I will not do it, but I do not want to risk my right cheek would you? ONE WHO WAS SLAPPED.

I think that if you marry a man who has shown you that he is a brute and will be a wife-beater you will desire to just exactly what you will get. You have had your warning. Profit by it and steer clear of a man who has no respect for a woman, no kindness, no tenderness, no chivalry in his nature. DOROTHY DIX.

SIX CHINESE STOWAWAYS ON BRITISH SHIP

Oriental Survived Long Ocean Trip and Deadly Gas Fumes But Are Detected

New Westminster, July 22.—Efforts of six Chinese stowaways to enter Canada aboard the British freighter Ben Arty failed when they reached this port Saturday.

The stowaways were fortunate to be alive after more than two weeks in a coal bunker aboard the ship, and especially after fumigation operations took place in port Friday. By some chance the deadly cyanide gas failed to reach the hold where the Chinese were hidden, and it was due to this luck they were able to emerge alive. One by one they came up on deck after the first stowaway had been spotted and city police and immigration officers notified.

Officers who entered the hold where the Oriental had been hiding declared it was a marvel they survived the ocean trip, as it was probably worse than the famous "Dreadnaught" of Calcutta. It was believed that Chinese members of the ship's crew conspired to keep their compatriots provided with food on the long trip.

The ship left Yokohama on July 4 and entered the Fraser River on July 18. It is supposed the stowaways boarded the ship at some Chinese port before reaching Yokohama.

After being arrested by local immigration and police officers, they were turned over to Vancouver immigration authorities to await deportation.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, July 22.—Three old windmills, which sailed the sea in a past era of shipping history and since have come to rest on the beach at the foot of the city, were sold yesterday by W. L. Conroy and Sons.

Renewed buying of wheat at Pacific Coast ports for European delivery, probably starting in September, was predicted here yesterday by R. T. Tschirmer, manager of the London office of the Kuhn, Loeb & Co. bank, operators of a large fleet of motor world routes. He is on his way back to London after more than two months in the Orient.

EXCURSION IN

The Princess Patricia arrived at the Belleville Street docks to-day shortly after noon with a large party of Vancouver people on a special excursion trip from the mainland port. Five hours were given in the capital city and the "Pat" left on the return trip to Vancouver at 5:30 o'clock.

ABRANGI OUT

Almost ready to commence her three-week voyage to Sydney, by way of Honolulu, Suva and Auckland, the motor liner Ahrangi was taking on last-minute freight to-day in Vancouver. She will sail from that port to-morrow at noon and from Victoria early in the evening for the South Sea and "down under."

PRINCE GEORGE SAILING

With a good list of passengers, most of whom are round trip tourists from eastern Canada and the United States, the Canadian National steamer Prince George will sail from Vancouver to-morrow at 10 o'clock for northern British Columbia and Alaska ports, going as far north as Skagway. She will return to Vancouver on July 30.

Panama Canal Passage Is An Expensive Trip

Average Ship Call Here By Way of the Panama Pays About $5,000 to Get-Through

Big Passenger Liners Charged Between $15,000 and $18,000 For Six Hours

The average ship in service to and from Victoria by way of the Panama pays about $5,000 for a passage of the Canal, according to a schedule of rates for commercial ships just issued which sets the toll at $1.20 per net ton, based on their measurements and tonnage.

Ships touching at Victoria on their way from Europe to Vancouver are the motor liners of the Furness line, the ships of the Holland-America and Royal Mail Steam Packet Companies, Canadian National freighters, the Donaldson Line and other vessels of various lines that call at Victoria from time to time, although not in regular service.

Smaller ships that use the Panama Canal on services to Victoria pay between $3,000 and $5,000, depending on their tonnage and whether they are loaded or not. The various lumber carriers that touch at Victoria from the Atlantic coast and Europe have a bill of about $3,000 charged up against them every time they travel through the Canal. If in ballast, however, they pay only twenty-two cents a ton.

The larger passenger liners that use the Panama Canal pay huge tolls. The three electric liners of the Panama Pacific Line, the California, the Virginia and the Pennsylvania pay about $15,000 every time they traverse the Canal. There are about four passages of the Canal by this line every month, so that the Panama Pacific Line turns in about $60,000 each month to the Canal administration. The Empress of Australia, which every year passes through the Canal on her round-the-world voyage, pays about $18,000 for the six-hour transit of the Canal, which is $3,000 for every hour she is in the great artificial waterway.

War vessels, other than transports, colliers, hospital ships and supply ships pay fifty cents per displacement ton, and transports, colliers, hospital and supply ships pay the regulation $1.20 per ton. The largest fees ever paid to the Panama Canal administration were for the passage of the great British battleship Hood which turned in nearly $35,000 for her little jaunt from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

A LOT OF WORK

A ship passing through the Canal, of course, causes a good deal of work for the Canal authorities. There are three sets of locks to be operated and many men must be on hand when a liner passes through. The ships do not use their own steam, but are pulled through by strong little tugs which are linked up to the ship with huge steel cables. The first ship usually starts through the Canal each day at 6 o'clock in the morning, and from then until sunset a steady stream of ships of all sorts passes through the fifty-three miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific or vice versa. The great waterway is well lighted at night, but very few ships have ever gone through in the darkness.

W. COAST TRIP ATTRACTS MANY

Princess Norah Booked to Capacity With Tourists Until the End of August

The tourist traffic to the West Coast of Vancouver Island is heavier than ever this year, and every sailing of the steamer Princess Norah from now until the end of August is booked to capacity.

Not a berth remains, and those wishing to make the trip this year are unable to secure accommodation on the Norah will travel aboard the Princess Maquinn. The Maquinn is also well booked up, although there are still berths available on her for every trip. The Princess Norah left Victoria last night at 11 o'clock with about 110 passengers, most of whom are round trip tourists, and who will return to Victoria on the steamer Maquinn Monday afternoon, after making the trip as far north as Port Alice.

PERFECT WEATHER

Weather along the coast is perfect, those who have made the trip this year report, and there has been very little rough weather and no fog. Calls are made at numerous fishing posts, picturesque Indian villages, canneries, fish reduction plants and other quaint and out-of-the-way places. The first call after leaving Victoria is at Port Renfrew and the last one at Port Alice, about 250 miles up the coast, where a large pulp mill is situated. The steamers stay at Port Alice long enough for the passengers to disembark and enjoy the plant there.

RIVALS ALASKA

The bays and inlets along the West Coast, and the mountains and scenery, rival the attractions of a trip to Alaska, passengers who have made both trips declare. The Princess Maquinn is now returning to Victoria from Port Alice, and will arrive here sometime to-morrow. She will sail again from Victoria on July 25.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, July 22.—Rechartering of the big raft, which was brought in here Sunday on its way from the Columbia River to San Diego because of low breaking looms and the endangering of navigation, started yesterday. The raft was 300 feet long when it left the Columbia River, but was considerably shortened on the way down the river. It is expected the work of refloating will be finished Wednesday and the raft will continue on its way south the same day.

The steamer Binalca, built in 1921 for the Mexican Lines, which was chartered to carry a load of ore to Chile, was damaged by a fire on July 18. The steamer which has been laid up in the harbor, has been ordered to be sold as scrap.

"Ladies in our party who usually experience 'train-sickness,' have not had so much as a suggestion of it, the 'readiness of the 'Milwaukee' through the Rockies is like a baby's cushion, and the roller-bearing on the train complete the riding perfection."

"Millions have been spent on this railroad, which is electrified through the Rockies for 650 miles. The service is the last word and the comfort unparalleled. You can get a shave, a haircut, massage, permanent wave, clothes cleaned and pressed, come out, a bath, shoes shined, any kind of non-intoxicating beverage, or smoke, and a dining-car service which is world-beater. Radio keeps us in touch with the world."

LOCAL PARTY MAKING TRIP TO INTERIOR

Eleven Victorians in Party Which Will Visit Jasper Park and Prince Rupert

Eleven Victorians are included in the conducted party which is now making the tour of British Columbia's famous triangle trip, from Vancouver to Jasper and Prince Rupert by train and down the Coast from Rupert by steamer.

The party left Vancouver yesterday morning and will return on Wednesday, July 30. The Victorians in the party are Miss Mary Percy, Miss Parkin, F. E. Proctor, Miss D. Hepp, Miss L. E. Bell, Mrs. L. P. Archer, F. W. Archer, Miss A. Marquart, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hubbard and James T. Stott.

Traveling in a special train the party will be accompanied by the Canadian National special train Kamloops and will arrive at Jasper Park where two full days will be spent amid the beauties of the Canadian Rockies. The members of the party will sleep on the train but will take their meals at the main lodge. To-morrow a motor drive to beautiful Maligne Lake is planned, and on Thursday a drive to Mount Temple, who is now in Europe with a party of local people. The letter was posted from New York and tells of the wonderful trip the party had across the continent aboard The Olympian, crack train of the Milwaukee Road.

In part the letter reads as follows: "It has been made Milwaukee famous—then with more justice it can be said that this magnificent railroad and the particular train will make that city more famous."

"Ladies in our party who usually experience 'train-sickness,' have not had so much as a suggestion of it, the 'readiness of the 'Milwaukee' through the Rockies is like a baby's cushion, and the roller-bearing on the train complete the riding perfection."
